Refill Technologies and PIAA Announce Partnership

The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association (PIAA) is proud to announce a partnership with Refill Technologies, making Refill an official corporate technology sponsor of the PIAA.

Refill's mobile ordering and contactless payment technology removes long lines and facilitates social distancing and features; scan your card, order insta control, express lane, and quick reorder. This technology is also being offered to professional sports teams around the country.

"We're excited about our partnership with the PIAA and our role in offering mobile ordering and contactless payments for their membership," said Anthony Reynolds, CEO of Refill Technologies Inc. "Providing quality technology, tools and support to their member schools is important to us."

The process is simple; fans will go to the home team's website or app and click mobile ordering. The concessions menu will populate and allow fans to place orders at different concession locations. After placing an order, pickup time will be given to each fan to reduce congested lines. All payments will be contactless to reduce the risk of viral transmission.

For PIAA member schools, athletic departments, and booster clubs to learn more about how to become a Refill client and even how to fundraise through their platform please
