

PIAA SPRING SPORTS OFFICIALS' APPRECIATION WEEK

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Thursday, April 3th, 2025

Mechanicsburg, PA – We're nearing close to a month into spring sports season and for the fourth consecutive year, the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association (PIAA) continues to dedicate a week in every sports season to recognize and show appreciation to the nearly 14,000 PIAA registered officials. Member Schools showed their overwhelming support for Fall Sports Officials' on October 6th through the 12th and Winter Sports Officials' Appreciation on January 12th through the 18th, but that's just the first two of three Officials' Appreciation Weeks. The Spring Sports Officials' Appreciation Week is scheduled to kick off this Sunday, April 6-12, 2025.

"Officials play a vital role, every day," said PIAA Board of Directors President and PIAA District II Chairman Frank Majikes. "Games can't be played without officials. Their unwavering efforts do not get the well-deserved appreciation for all they do for Pennsylvania student-athletes. This is a time to celebrate and thank officials for their tireless efforts." President Majikes has been a registered PIAA official for over 50 years, so these weeks are especially meaningful to him.

PIAA was the first state to dedicate a week in every sports season to sports officials. It has since turned into a national recognition with the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) recognizing the same weeks. PIAA has taken pride in leading the way to celebrate all the hard work and dedication officials do for PIAA member schools and their student-athletes.
