PIAA Scene – Season Three

“PIAA Scene” will continue to highlight the sights and sounds from around the state.

MECHANICSBURG, PA — The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, Inc (PIAA) will continue to produce a series of videos, highlighting its student-athletes’ memorable plays, milestones, and other achievements from their regular and post-season contests. The video series entitled “PIAA Scene” will be released multiple times each scholastic sports season. See the fall schedule of dates below:

Wednesday, September 9th - Episode 36

Wednesday, September 23rd - Episode 37

Wednesday, October 7th - Episode 38

Wednesday, October 21st - Episode 39

Wednesday, November 4th - Episode 40

Wednesday, November 13th - Episode 41, “Best of the Fall”

To get your players, coaches, cheerleaders, band members, and fans “seen” on the “PIAA Scene,” use the hashtag #PIAAScene. Along with your post, please leave a brief description of the play, milestone or achievement. We’re looking to highlight the positive stories that happen throughout the season in interscholastic athletics across the Commonwealth. Who knows, maybe that clip will spread the good that’s happening in our state, nationally. In 2025, during their final home game, Northwestern High School’s girls’ basketball coach, Steve Sawin, called a timeout with eight (8) seconds left in the game. Not because the team needed it. The Wildcats used the timeout to take a moment to honor formerly registered PIAA basketball official Bernie Mackowski. It was Mackowski’s final game after officiating for 51 years. The small recognition grew to national recognition as Daivd Muir, World News Tonight anchor, featured the gesture on #AmericaStrong.

By tagging #PIAAScene on social, you’re allowing the PIAA to share your videos on PIAA platforms, i.e. website and social media. This is the third school year for this initiative.
